SEPTEMBER 2012

It's September now and we've made the transition to tropo from E skip. There has been some strong tropo along the east coast from New Brunswick down through Boston and from Boston down the coast to Virginia. Plus there was a report or two by Chris Kadlec reporting some strong Great Lake tropo from his location in Michigan. And that covers the month of August.

MEMBERS AND MORE

We have four new members to welcome this month and they are Denis Allard (QC) who came aboard with the help of Chary Gauthier, Ryan Leigh Donaldson (Brisbane, AUS) who frequents the new Australasia section of the WTFDA Forums, Mike Perron (LA) who is better known as mp11 on the WTFDA Forums and last, but not least, Richard Lewelling, KG4EFQ (GA) who wrote me that he is a meteorologist for the Weather Channel. If I'm counting correctly, we have at three other meteorologists in the WTFDA. Welcome to all of you!

Renewals during the period from July 20th through August 26th came in from Bob Hawkins-IN, John Johnson-MT, Peter Giacopelli-NY, Ralph Strobel-IN, Ron Purdue-MN, Ronnie Rader-IA, Fred MacCormack-MN, John Hourigan-CO, Steve Rich-IN, Frank Aden-ID, John Zondlo-OK, Joe Esser-NJ, Jeff Falconer-ON, Rich McVicar-NY, Richard Gray-LA, James Nahirniak-MI, John Callarman-TX, Al Tobia-OR, Glen Boche-MN, Wolfgang Schneider-CA, Jeff Lehmann-MA, Roy Barstow-MA, Walter Patton-ON, Steve French-MN, Rod Jorgenson-WI and Nick Lombardi-GA.

Thank you all for supporting the club and the hobby.

NEW SONY XDR-F1HD MODS

I don't own an XDR-F1HD anymore, so I tend to not keep up with mods to that tuner, but an email from Pat Dyer made me see that something is going on. Pat wrote: "Due to a posting of a link to one of these YouTube videos last night by KA3JAW I found these <http://www.youtube.com/user/iks202> which led to WR Hepburn finding this http://kkonrad.dyndns.org/wordpress/?page_id=10.

If that all works as stated then the Sony could be used to tune the Ch 3-6 NTSC video carriers and audios, those ATSC pilots, as well as the 108-118 MHz Nav aids! It also permits adjustments to many of the Sony's other parameters. With this <http://www.seeedstudio.com/depot/seeeduino-v221-atmega-328p-p-669.html> inexpensive board (plus some other components) it almost seems to be too good to believe, combining some of the nice features of the HDT-1x (e.g., rapid direct-frequency access), and adding others (like a real signal-strength readout).

Sure enough, there now is a mod that lets you control your XDR-F1HD from a PC. Your tuner could tune 60mhz to 130mhz, tune in 5khz steps, use fixed or adaptive bandwidth from 15khz to wide, give signal level in dBf, tune instantly to any frequency, provide AM demodulation for the aircraft band, provide RDS, fast PI detection, and provide RF/IF 6db gain control plus much more.

Interested? Check the URLs Pat provided above, do it and let us know how it worked. If I still had one, I'd be one of the first to try it.

Thanks to Dennis Smith and Jeff Kadet for information appearing elsewhere in this column.

Dennis reports KSEX-CA San Diego on the air, with four channels of infomercials...

Also new in the area is XHTJB-DT Tijuana. This station is on RF-46, mostly simulcasting analog channel 3. "Mostly", because the digital signal has a continuous call sign ID superimposed on the programming – Dennis says the analog station has never IDd.

Long-dark WWAZ-TV Fond du Lac, Wisconsin has returned to the air with WeatherNation programming. The station has moved from channel 44 to channel 5, although the virtual channel remains 68. The new transmitter is on the WMVS/WMVT tower in Milwaukee.

And also in the long-delayed stations on the air department is WMWC Galesburg, Illinois. This station is on RF channel 8 on a tower in Orion, Illinois serving the Quad Cities. The station is running TBN, but only the first program. (unlike most TBNs which run five channels of religious programming)

CFTV-DT Leamington is to be the second Canadian DTV station authorized to use subchannels.

Channel 34.1 will carry the English-language community programming currently on their analog signal.

34.2 will carry ethnic programming, in French between 6am and 6pm, and in Spanish between 6pm and 6am.

34.3 will carry programming for the disabled, and programming for the Aboriginal community.

And channel 34.4 will carry municipal programming – council meetings, etc...

To my knowledge the only other DTV subchannel in Canada is an audio-only channel of CJON-DT St. John's, which serves as the studio-transmitter link for CHOZ-FM.

Finally, WORA-TV Mayaguez, Puerto Rico has also been granted permission to add a second transmitter creating a DTS:

The Editor's Note

What's good for the energy bill often isn't so good for the Insignia box. The ridge of heat that engulfed much of the central U.S. through July finally relented over the month of August, but the cooler temperatures helped usher in a very quiet tropo month across much of the country, save for a couple of isolated openings in the east. While August has been historically a good month for tropo in the northern U.S., September and October are usually prime periods as well, so don't give up hope yet.

The legendary Bob Seybold checks in inside this edition of C2CTV DX, and he certainly had his fair share of DX over the summer. Robert Grant and Jeff Kadet also report their findings during the July 24 Es opening. Many remain down on the recent Es campaign, with Bill Draeb calling it the worst Es season he's seen.

General summary:

Late May and early June 1-10 E-skip was quite active in that period with lots of Canadian analogs, some Cubans and Mexico and some US analogs and a couple DTVs on channel 3. Recent Canadian opening had double hop to western Canada. Also had some good tropo back in late March and some in June and July into Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, and central and eastern New York. I recently purchased a RCA digital converter as I was having some trouble decoding on some stations with my digital stream converter. In some cases stations with high signal strength 90+ not decoding even though some stations with 35 percent or less signal were decoding. Also a few strong signals showing 0 reading not showing up at all. First night I tried new RCA I got stations decoding that came up blank on other converter even many stations were OK. Also getting a few stations showing up on old converter and not at all on new RCA. Also some stations showing up on different channels on each converter. Two examples are City TV Toronto showing up on 44 on one converter and 57 on other. Another one showed up on 51 and 69 on other. Also others include Detroit WDIV on 45 and 4. Why? (ed. note: I believe one converter box is showing the RF channel, while the other is showing the virtual channel. WDIV's RF channel is 45, but its virtual channel is 4...)

The July 24th opening was one of the best in a long time. As much as I saw above, I also logged many FM by Es in the opening, as well as other VHF signals outside the TV and FM bands. I'm sure I would have had even more new TV if I had not spent much of the afternoon in the basement. On the other hand, it was a good thing that I happened to be on a vacation and got in on the opening at all. Es was roaring from the Southeast when I got back to the TV, and a DTV on 4 (almost certainly WACP) was trying to decode. I did manage to pull off seeing WBRA at only 364 miles (shortest TV Es from Temperance and 2nd shortest from anywhere for me). Amidst all of the short Es coming in, seeing XEWO with its "MasVision" bug ("+V" in a circle) was one of the bigger DX surprises I ever had.

I finally got tropo to open up to Ontario without Cleveland being ultra-strong, allowing me to finally log two DTs from the CN tower in Toronto. Solidly IDing CIII DT took quite the effort. I found the station in a channel search, and the PSIP came up as "6-1 CIII-DT". It oddly came up with the CM3020 almost dead North (any further East, and the "franken-FM" from Cleveland was stronger). I had to know that this was actually RF 6, and not another Global transmitter using virtual 6-1. Problem was, the Panasonic does not allow you to determine what RF channel a DT is actually on. I tried to use the Zinwell on RF 6 manual scan, but found out I could not get them on the Zinwell! (usually, the Zinwell gets what the Panasonic can't). To prove the signal was RF 6, I used an old UHF converter to put local WGTE on RF 6, and the Panasonic did respond.

The common Mexicans, Canadians, and Cubans are not included in the above report unless there was something special about the reception.

CW 18 in Milwaukee is putting "CW 18-HD" in big letters on either side of their TV picture. So is KGCW-DT-41 with "kgcw.com" going down the right side of screen and something on the left which is half way off my screen. I find this disturbing if it becomes a trend.

This report is for July 8-31, 2012. Ocean water temp is steady at 62F. Air temps continue in 70s-80sF during day and 50s-60sF overnight. Still hot inland away from ocean, highs 90s to 100sF. All DX on LG 20" flat screen. Tropo from Calif, USA & Baja, Mexico, and Es from Chih. Mexico. So-Calif coastal tropo to San Diego/Tijuana/Tecate up to 220 mi:

Jul 8 -11	Fair	Stable, high pressure
Jul 12-16	Poor	Unsettled, tropical moisture
Jul 17-18	Very poor	Storm Fabio effects
Jul 19-31	Var. poor-fair	Calm & stable

Seen at DON VOEGELE's place, OUTOOR antennas:

Santa Barbara in-town DTV total with 2 new is now
57. If 4 new DTVs seen Feb 25 from local mtns are included, the DTV total is 61.

Santa Barbara in-town partially reconstructed analog total remains at 90. If 3 new analogs seen Feb 25 from local mtns along with others before in mtns are included, the partially reconstructed analog total is 112.

7/24 was an amazing day with two intense openings of 3+ hours each. I was off work so able to DX live for a few hours of the morning, but unable to in the evening. In both openings, a single station would stay in strong for 2+ hours at a time, although sometimes trading who else was on channel. In the one day I doubled my number of new Es logs for the season, which had previously been painfully small.

So What Now?

The Summer sporadic-E Season came and went. And most would agree, it was a disappointment. Except for a rather intense opening July 25th (that I missed, being on a roadtrip), Summer 2012 was routine, indeed.

So, what now for amateur VHF? Certainly, E_s is gone until the brief Winter Season -- and those have been fairly uneventful the past few years. Tropo can pop up in the fall, but big openings are likely still months away. So, we have to pin our hopes on some F2 over the coming weeks.

As we have discussed before, Solar Cycle 24 has been slow in coming. Without the help of growing solar activity, F2 and the super-long distances it can bring will be little more than a dream. Things were looking up about a year ago; SFI peaked above 150, but has since settled back a bit.

Recently, the Solar Flux Index has been hovering between the high 90s and 130 on a really good day. Generally speaking, my experience has been that for 6m F2, we need numbers significantly higher than that. TEP into South America can be supported at those levels, but direct paths, especially bearing east/west require more solar support.

Being a year closer to the peak of Cycle 24 than we were last fall implies we should have higher numbers. But so far, that has not been the case. The Sun keeps its own schedule. SFI is no higher than this time last year; if anything, it's a bit lower.

This does not mean that all is lost. A few X-flares will go a long way for 6m. And, of course, there is always HF for the DX-starved operator. As I have mentioned before, for those familiar with VHF, the HF 10 meter band at 28 MHz will seem comfortable and familiar. Setting up a basic station can be quite affordable, too.

I need your loggings and QSLs to keep this column fresh and interesting. Keep those cards and letters coming! Here is a set of cards I just received from this summer's DXpedition to three rare grids in Big Bend National Park. Sadly, with this summer's difficult conditions, the gang in Texas was disappointed with the QSO count. But I got 'em!

FCC Nixes Bid To Allow Analog FM Audio From Digital Channel 6 LPTVs

From Allaccess.com

The FCC has rejected applications by VENTURE TECHNOLOGIES GROUP, LLC to modify two of its low power TV "Franken-FMs" on television Channel 6 to use a "Simple Out-of-Channel Emission Mask" to transmit analog FM audio along with a digital TV signal after the mandatory flash-cut conversions of remaining analog LPTVs to digital transmission.

VENTURE proposed using AXCERA transmitter "Bandwidth Enhancement Technology" to compress the bandwidth of the TV signal and allow it to transmit an ancillary frequency that would allow it to continue the pseudo-FM stations it presently operates in some markets (in the case of the applications, KFMP-LP/LUBBOCK, TX and WBPA-LP/PITTSBURGH).

In its response, the Commission said that "while VTG states that no interference will occur to other stations from its proposed facilities, the Commission has not adopted rules regarding engineering protection requirements for 'hybrid' analog/DTV stations to other DTV stations seeking to use Channel 6. At present, there are published D/U ratios for DTV-into-DTV and Analog-into-DTV co-channel operation, which were developed from years of testing, but there are no D/U ratios for "hybrid"-into-DTV operation. We also note that on its face, VTG's proposal is likely to increase the interference potential to co-channel DTV operations because VTG's proposal would increase the total power of its channel 6 operations by 33%. Accordingly, this type of operation proposed by VTG may reduce the number of DTV stations that might operate on channel 6 and/or reduce the populations served by those DTV stations."

FM Radio Log 1st Edition

The FM Radio Log, 1st edition – by James Niven is available. The Log lists FM broadcast stations in Canada and the United States with much useful information all in one location at your fingertips.

The Log is in the same format and has the same detail as the AM Radio Log which most are accustomed to.

As you can see from the image below, the log contains information such as:

- Format
- Slogan
- Mailing address
- Phone number
- Network
- Station status
- In the rear, you will find two sorted lists, one by Call sign and frequency and the other by City, state, frequency and call sign.

If you have any interest in DXing FM broadcast stations, then do yourself a favor and drop by www.fmradiolog.com and take a look, there is downloadable sample file to show content. I hope this peaks your interest enough that you will be among the first to purchase a copy, at a very reasonable price of $26.95!

Due to the large number of FM stations in Canada and the United States, I decided the log would be available as a downloadable file only at around 5.5mb and contains 980 pages!
