BRRRRRR! What can we say about the weather in February that's printable? Not much. Perhaps it wasn't bad where you live but it was just terrible here in the northeast. TV or FM DX just does not exist in this kind of weather. If you look at this month's cover you'll find that antennas have a hard time with it also.

Steve Solomon and Roy Barstow both lost antennas in a recent storm that left an inch or two of snow here in Central CT but created blizzard conditions on Cape Cod. Not much fun at all.

The cold and snow was followed by a thaw at the end of the third week of February, but didn't last long as the Polar Vortex shoved itself back down from the Canadian wastelands to the eastern half of North America.

Meanwhile I received an email from Ivan Diaz in Brazil who mentioned that their summer is one of the hottest and driest on record.

The forecasts predict that this abnormally frigid weather will continue on for the eastern two thirds of North America through the first week of March, if not longer. Bye, DX.

RENEWALS. Renewals arrived during the period of 1/30 through 2/23 from Juan Gualda (FL), George Rogers (GA), Richard Porter (IL), David Shapiro (NE), Ron Ehlke (WI), Bryce Foster (TN), Günter Lorenz (Germany), Robert Steadman (WI), Dave Pomeroy (KS), Frank Drobny (CA) and Rick Shaftan (NJ). Thank you for your support of the WTFDA.

PUBLISHING. Over the past few years I have asked over and over for someone to come forward and take over the publishing duties for the VUD. There have been no volunteers. I am now asking one last time. If you would like to help out your club immensely and publish the VUD email me or any of the other BOD members. The first issue of the VUD that I published was in September 2001. I was 54 when I began 13 years ago. 13 years is enough.

PUBLICATION OF THE PAPER VUD WILL CEASE WITH THE JUNE 2014 ISSUE

The VUD will be published as an E-ZINE only from July 2014 onward.

Renewals received for the paper VUD will no longer be accepted.

We are sorry for any inconvenience this change will cause.

We will work to convert willing members to the electronic VUD and work to address the individual concerns of others, if possible.

Last month, we reported WHME-TV South Bend requesting permission to cancel a permit to move from channel 48 to channel 46.

This month, something similar has happened in Birmingham, Alabama. WBIQ held a permit to move from channel 10 to channel 39. They asked the FCC to cancel that permit – remaining on channel 10 until they see what happens with spectrum repacking. The Commission has granted that request.

The FCC has granted temporary authority for a pilot channel-sharing project in Los Angeles. KLCS-58 will share its RF channel 41 with KJLA-57 Ventura.

As you may remember, this is nothing new from a technical standpoint. KLCS will add subchannels to its transmitter. Instead of those subchannels being programmed by KLCS personnel, they will be programmed by KJLA.

The only thing I think you'll notice from a technical standpoint is that the subchannels programmed by KJLA will use major channel 57 instead of 58. They will be channels 57.1, 57.2, etc...

This is a much bigger deal from a legal standpoint. It's already legal for a commercial TV station to lease out subchannels to third parties. However, the original licensee remains responsible for compliance with non-technical FCC regulations. If the party leasing the channel airs something obscene, or charges one political party more for airtime than it charges the other party, it's the transmitter owner who is responsible.

In the channel-sharing arrangement, each licensee is responsible for what happens on its subchannels. If KJLA broadcasts naked people having sex on channel 57.3, KJLA will be solely responsible for any sanctions. KLCS will not be called on the carpet.

The two stations are jointly responsible for any violations of the technical regulations. (such as the transmitter operating at twice authorized power, etc..)

This is a six-month pilot project. It can be renewed. In this particular pilot project, KJLA's own transmitter on RF channel 49 will remain in operation. In an actual channel-sharing arrangement, one of the two RF channels (in this case almost certainly 49) would be sold in the incentive auction. The two stations involved, KLCS and KJLA, would split the auction revenue.

There is one other thing different about this test. The stations have indicated they intend to experiment with MPEG-4/H.264 compression on some of the subchannels. This compression is far more effective than the MPEG-2 used for normal digital TV in the U.S.. Mexico already authorizes it for subchannels and it seems to be working out nicely. The downside: many existing receivers cannot decode MPEG-4 subchannels. On the other hand, many can...

 Editor's Note: Hopefully, the FCC will be clearing up it backlog of LPFM and Translator applications soon. The FM band is slowly filling up and is almost as crowded as the AM band. Ugh!!

The Editor's Note

As the words "polar vortex" have become entrenched in everyone's vernacular outside of the southwest U.S. and Florida, remarkably quiet DX conditions continue on throughout the continent. While the prospects for March weather-wise continue to skew heavily wintry in the midwest and northeast, the good news for DX'ers is that a change in seasons is a little less than a month away, and at some point, the conditions will begin to reflect that.

An understandably light column this month, but Dennis Smith briefs us inside this edition of C2CTV DX.

LG flat-screen TVs' manual-tuning ease of analog/DTV channels was noted in Dec-2013 VUD. I have been using my 20" LG since 2008, and I can confirm that good feature. That and being able to travel with it in a suitcase makes it very convenient.

This report is from January 7 to February 12, 2014.

Jan air temps were highs in 70sF/20C and lows apx 50F/10C. Feb temps so far are highs 60sF/apx16C and lows 40sF/apx6C. Sprinkles early Feb, nothing more, even tho' substantial precip in No. CA. Mild temps but still too dry. Winter is our only precip season but almost nil so far. Water rationing imminent. At this writing, high 75F/24C (inland up to 80F/27C), low 50F/10C. Ocean water temp remains steady 58F/14C.

Distances are approximate. So-Calif tropo ducting to San Diego/Tijuana/Tecate from 175 mi/280 km up to 220 mi/350 km SE:

Jan 7 - 12 Out of town, to WASCO
Jan 13 - 17 None Warm, windy in region
Jan 18 - 29 Var. fair/poor Calmer, still warm
Jan 30-Feb 9 None Unsettled, mildly cooler
Feb 10 - 12+ Var. fair/poor Calm, warmer

Jan 7, 2014 in Wasco CA—my old home town; the last time I was there was Aug 2012. Since then, two local Bakersfield low-power analogs have become low-power DTVs.

KEBK-LD d27 "27" 45mi/70km SE (ex-KEBK-LP analog 47)

KDBK-LD d41 "41" 35mi/55km SE (ex-KDBK-LP analog 41)

These two are all infomercials and simulcast with each other. Xmtrs are on diff mtns. Just one ch each (no further subchs). Perhaps by now, calls from -LP to -LD. As analogs, their IDs were CornerStore infom. network, but no local IDs. As DTVs, not even network IDs noted this time, guessing still CornerStore but don't know for sure. No tropo or other DX noted.

My Wasco DTV total is now 34 with these 2 new. My Wasco analog total remains 228, having started TV-DXing in early 1950s.

Feb 11, back to SBarb at Don Voegele's place: Tropo at least fair, maybe approaching good. Seen were the usual San Diego/Tijuana/Tecate DTVs, and these analogs: K35DG 35 La Jolla, KZSD-LP 39 San Diego (175 mi/280 km), XHDTV 49 Tecate, XHUAA-relay 56 Tecate (220 mi/350 km). It has been a while since seeing some of those.

Oh, well. Local analog KZDF-LP 8 Santa Barbara was off air since Nov 13, 2013. Back on Jan 25, so far only testing.

Best of DX to All Dennis

APS 9B Antenna Failure

BOB COOPER

Five years or so ago when the APS antennas were still available, we purchased 8 of the 9B version (for off-air pickup to feed 'translators' within our FM networks). The 9B decision was a balance between "some gain", lightweight, and most important mechanical strength. The antenna shown here (#0344) was on a 1.5" thick wall steel pipe at 30 feet above ground. It was horizontally polarized and dragged our 103.5 250 watt transmitter over 30 miles of intervening (and much higher) terrain, feeding a modified Sony F1HD. At the same site within 20 feet is 800 watts on 97.9, 20 watts on 107.3 and only the Sony gives us noise and overload free reception for rebroadcasting (that being the 107.3 unit). Now the damage. APS 9B have/had a square aluminium boom. In the damaged antenna photo it is the active (feedline connected) portion resting just beyond the mast to boom clamp which has been destroyed. In photo 0347, setting aside my poor focus, one can work out that a huge amount of pressure was somehow exerted on the boom to cause it to collapse as it did; the missing or damaged active elements may also be a clue while the antenna's front (one active, and the directors) looks fine. Before you say "tornado" (which we do have on rare occasions) no other antenna – mast or roof line was damaged, all within 10-30 feet. Finally, in #0346 one that has not been damaged – close inspection will reveal two "love birds" (white pigeons) which hang out on this antenna; possibly adding 1 dB of additional gain each!

"Extreme Similarities" of LPFM Apps Concerns Advocates

Radio World 02-14-14

Things are heating up between some LPFM activists and a group of potential low-power FM station owners.

REC Networks and other organizations representing LPFM applicants protested to the FCC about 245 applications filed by Antonio Cesar Guel and Hispanic Christian Community Network.

REC's Michi Bradley says on her website that the large number of applications, and their similarities, filed by Guel on behalf of HCCN, raised a red flag. "In the event that your organization is one of the 245 applicants that REC has filed an informal objection against, REC is willing to withdraw our objection against the specific application," provided specific information is supplied, she states, such as proof that the names listed on the applications are really a part of the organization, and "a statement from the property owner of the transmitter site as well as the proposed main studio location giving permission for the placement of a broadcast tower and/or radio studio at the location."

The attorney representing Guel and HCCN, Dan Alpert, opposes the objections filed by "filed by national organizations, local broadcasters, competing LPFM applicants and concerned citizens," as characterized by Bradley. He tells the commission the allegations against the consultant HCCN "are unfounded and untrue" and the objections should be denied.

Further, he says his client is a real nonprofit entity and does have assurances of the property owners to use the transmitter sites.

The needs of HCCN clients "evidently conflict" with the needs of REC Networks clients, asserts Alpert on behalf of Guel, who tells the commission that's what the objections are really all about.

Pocket DTV Review

Mike Glass

Since DTV DX is dead right now, so I am spending my time looking for a very portable DTV DX receiver. I got quite excited reading about the Auvio 16-972 3.5" DTV from Radio Shack. It has many positive reviews, an external antenna port, and manual RF channel selection according to the manual. I then discovered that the same unit is available from RCA, model DHT235A. So, I bought a new RCA unit from Amazon and a wall plug and antenna port adapter, all for about $80.

I received the stuff on Saturday and started playing with it. I did not have the four AA's I needed so I used the wall plug. I am not sure which was the problem, but the connection between the TV and the adapter was loose enough to cause cut outs with very little movement. I also discovered that RCA put a very limited menu on this unit. All I could do was a channel search and the channel display later never let you know what the RF channel was. Not good for serious DX!

I went ahead and did the auto search and was very pleased with the unit's sensitivity. First using the tiny whip antenna I could get most of the full power locals that were within 30 miles of my location, the closest being 21 miles. Interestingly, the PSIP info was distorted on the weakest stations. This tells me that it will pull in PSIP even when it is not strong enough to properly decode it. When I attached it to a small outdoor antenna (adapter works very well) I could decode everything my Zenith DTT900 could on the same antenna. Not bad for a pocket TV, but the lack of manual tuning made this one a non keeper. I have already requested a return to Amazon.

So, I have now order the Auvio 16-972 from Amazon to try. It is a discontinued model, so I bought a "refurbished" one for $50. I downloaded the owners manual and it clearly shows how to manual tune by RF channel. I should get it by Valentine's Day, so we shall see.

To be continued,

Mike

ANOTHER NEW SDR FOR FM DXING

This new SDR covers long wave through 150mhz, can record 6mhz of bandwidth at one time and costs half the price of a Perseus SDR. Two beta testers tell us it has great selectivity and sensitivity with great overload rejection. Use it with SDR Console or use their own interface. Although this is an Italian product, it can be ordered from the United States.
