Reinventing The Wheel

*A 1920s style
universal fit
Model A or

by Jim Thomas

Reinventing The Wheel is an idiom that may not be as old as you think. An idiom is a word, group of words or phrase that has a figurative meaning that is not easily deduced from its literal meaning.

To reinvent the wheel means to waste one's time working on creating something that has already been created by someone else, or trying to solve a problem that has already been solved by someone else. The idea is that the wheel referred to in this idiom is an invention that already exists, so expending resources on a solved problem is a waste of effort. Most often, the idiom is used as an admonishment against wasting time and effort. The term "reinvent the wheel" dates back to the 1970s, and was often used as a business and advertising metaphor. Related phrases are

"reinventing the wheel" and "reinventing yourself."

Reinventing is synonymous with re-purposing or re-using something for a totally new use.

Basically, re-purposing involves taking old items and

"Lemme see if that's in file 13."

Ed Hill WA2QAJ, of Spring Hill, Florida, with his custom homebrew DX cabinet. Ed re-purposed this filing cabinet in 2018 and posted this picture in January 2019, on his ham radio website.

The Night The Analog TV Went Out.

The TV Liquor Cabinet: talk about hip...gutted then refilled with spirits and beautiful glass decanters, the party will definitely find it's sweet spot here. The installed internal light creates a theatrical feel, bringing attention to the array of colors, labels, and shapes that are very entertaining to the eye.

Reinventing The Wheel

transforming them into beautiful products that are new to you and serve a new purpose. An old door becomes a coffee table; a used dresser becomes a love seat. The end result is a unique piece that can give a whole room an appealing and homey feel.

What will you do, when your DX relic says it just can't receive DX anymore? Or if you have just too many DX gadgets, and you really need to bring them together for DX Central. Is Grandma's old dresser drawers crying, "Why not me?"

"To raise new questions, new possibilities, to regard old problems from a new angle, requires creative imagination and marks real advance in science." - Albert Einstein

Retiring an Old, Worn Out TV Antenna.

Mrs. Otto, a retired artist from Pittsburgh, PA, says, "In the attic of my house there were two TV antennas thoughtfully left behind by the previous owners. I was reacquainted with them this week while working on some insulation issues in the attic. I decided it was time they got re-purposed.

I mounted the more complete one on top of a 4x4, and used parts from the other one around the base. All around the poles I planted some pole beans. Hopefully the birds will like it as well as a place to watch for bugs on the pond, too."

When the DX Isn't There, it's Time to Hang It Up!

Blake Sloane is a designer and builder in Washington, D.C. Blake took this antique Sentinel radio, cut it up and refinished it, then added some old coat hooks. A kind gesture, just to make an antique radio collector's day, in the homeowner's house remodeling project.

Is It More Important to You to Reduce, Reuse or Recycle?

EDITOR'S NOTE: Most government agencies in the United States and Canada prohibit dumping ANY electronics products in landfills. Please consider alternatives.

Does the lack of DX have you "burned out"?

Here's a bright idea: re-purpose a burnt out light bulb by turning it into your own mini forest! Clearing out the old wiring and paint from the inside is simple, and used light bulbs make the perfect DIY desk terrarium. Just fill the bulb with soil or sand, then arrange figurines and tiny plants to make a miniature oasis.

More Repack News

Chris Lucas posting on the TV and FM Dxing FB group

As we are now in the peak E-skip season, here's an update of DTV skip targets.

In Repack Phase 4 (now through Aug 2) 5 new stations should be coming to lo-VHF.

WTLW-4 Lima, Ohio is now on the air as of this week. Has been reported skip and tropo.. 10kw.

WQED-4 Pittsburgh, PA was originally Phase 9 but moved to Phase 4, and expects to be on the air by July 1st. 10kw

WGGN-4 Sandusky, OH. Sometime by Aug 2nd.

WNYB-5 Jamestown, NY was already seen testing prematurely a few days ago, so may be on the air for real very soon. 4kw

WGBH-5 Boston, MA, sometime before August 2nd. 6.7kw

RECAP.... Repacked stations already licensed on their new channels.

WHDF-2 Florence, AL. Widely seen. 21kw

KZHO-LD-3 Houston, TX. Has been seen... 3kw.

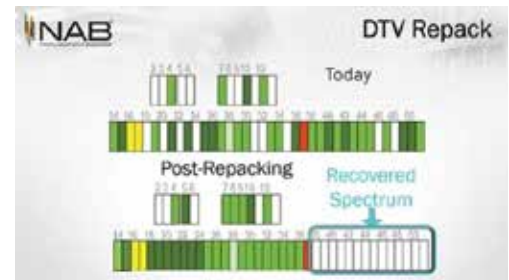

KQRY-LD-5 Ft. Smith, AR License just granted May 31st 3kw

WJSP-5 Columbus, GA. Not reported yet. May have gone silent. 21.4kw

W05DH-5 Jupiter, FL. Not reported yet. May have gone silent. Has a CP to move tower to West Palm Beach near the ocean. 3kw

WEXZ-CD Bangor, ME I don't think this has been reported. 3kw

WOUC-6 Cambridge, OH. Has been reported. 11kw

OTHER NOTES:

WNYX-5 New York City is still silent, pending securing permanent tower. Is directional east.

W22EW (aka W05DG) West Orange, NJ has licensed it's current ch 22 at lower power. Not sure if this is temporary, or if they are cancelling the channel 5 CP. Would be directional west.

WDPN-2 ("MeTV") Philadelphia has increased power to 34kw.

WACP-4 Atlantic City, NJ is likewise increasing to 34kw. Not sure if they have done this already.

WJLP-3 Middletown, NJ. Has STA (temporary authority) to increase power to 15kw at current 4 Times Square site (from licensed 7kw). Has just been granted STA to up that to 26.5 kw from late July to early September. WJLP will eventually move to World Trade Center at 9kw.

By the way, low power "LD" class stations and translators that are repacking are NOT part of any specific phase. They have generally been granted a standard 3 year CP. They can move to new channel anytime they are ready, as long as that channel is empty.

K28MO in Arizona has reapplied to move to a new site. Their initial application was dismissed for interference to KCOS-LP in Phoenix on the same channel. K28MO argues interference to KCOS is impossible as KCOS has been off the air for at least eight years. (and thus, their license expired seven years ago..) Page 4 of the attachment to K28MO's application shows photos of the KCOS-LP transmitter. The upper photo shows the KCOS transmitter turned off... and the lower one shows no antenna connected...

The Editor's Note

Every year, there are some complaints about the proceedings in the E-Skip season. It's difficult to please everyone, after all. This season's complaint department, however, has been deafening in its roar. Was it because of the strong 2018 Es season many enjoyed? Or has 2019 really been that bad? From our vantage point, June has not been completely barren of openings, but many of them have lacked punch. And the complete and utter lack of Es after 6 PM or so this year has been quite bewildering. Overall, things could be going better!

There's always July. We hope for some Independence Day Es fireworks. Tropo has not really been overwhelming anywhere across the continent either (much of the U.S. is finally drying out after a very rainy past month). We cross our fingers that changes as well.

With the Ascan scanner. Want to point out I did not receive K24ic 24. Last night good DTV down to around East Va. where the rain stopped more from the South coast from coming in. After 12 AM on 6-8-2019 best for about 2 hours.

June is always a big month for renewals and I'd like to thank the 18 members who sent in their renewals so far. Thanks for supporting the WTFDA!

I had two different covers lined up for July and I waited until the very end to decide which one to use and as I write this...even now I'm not sure. We will find out together.

Here's a little note from long time member Gary Siegel in Toledo, OH: "Enclosed is my money order for $24 to renew in WTFDA for another year. I still require a print copy of the VUD. I am currently without an internet hookup that I hope to resolve. I appreciate your being able to accommodate my current dilemma.

Last year was a bonanza for E skip. At least 50 new ones heard plus my 50th political unit in the form of NJ heard on FM. I'm hoping to send along some of those highlights and an updated totals list in the near future.

TV DX will be very limited as 1) my antenna is stuck in a NE reception mode caused by the brutal windy winter; 2) by a faulty TV remote that many functions have fallen away trying to operate my converter for my analog TV. As a result I cannot add some shifting TV channeled stations nor unskip those taken out in the off-TV reception season. Looking forward for solutions to all these TV problems.

Now if we could just fix the weather maybe we can get on with the E skip season and get some new FM adds in the weeks ahead."

Gary wrote more but that's all I can fit. It's great to see both Southern FM and Northern FM DX back in the VUD! Have a great month and we'll see you next time! -Mike
